"FORGOTTEN PEOPLE"

HAVE YOU CONTRIBUTED YET?

One of the most unsung, yet vitally important, local organizations is active in this Community. SHALL THEY CONTINUE WORKING ALONE OR WILL YOU ASSIST?

Support your "CHILDREN'S CENTER," operated solely by the Hancock County Association for Retarded Children, with funds and equipment donated. WE DONATE NATIONALLY, WHY NOT LOCALLY?

Investigate the necessity of this organization and its workings. RETARDED CHILDREN NEED HELP. LET US NOT CONTINUE TO IGNORE OR PITY—DO SOMETHING!!

Retardation can strike anywhere, in any family, at birth or from sickness, injury, disease or environment. They are not freaks, but children of our own. It could be yours! Your grandchild, or a relative! WON'T YOU HELP?

Through the concerted efforts of a few dedicated people, the Hancock Association for Retarded Children was formed and strictly at their own expense, this program has progressed. A "Children's Center" has been started but the cost to continue operation must be met.

Donate freely! Donate in anyway you can; in service, books, records, toys, playground equipment and, not the least, cash. Send donations or contact the following for pickup. Warren Carver, HO-7-6791; Mrs. Estelle Depreo, HO-7-4466 at the Courthouse or Mrs. Lloyd Lewis, HO-7-6314 or the "Children's Center" on Carroll Ave., Bay St. Louis.

Investigate thoroughly, weigh the benefit of liberal donations against the regrets of idleness and complacency. Remember "Retardation is not limited, it could strike home"

DONATE FREELY TO THE "CHILDREN'S CENTER."

Club Has Display

The Clermont Harbor Home Demonstration Club, in observance of National Home Demonstration week, has a display window in Deigh's Department Store and the Bayou La Batre Club has their display in Fahey Drug Store, window.

WAVELAND NEWS

MRS. BEVERLY ZIMMERMAN

PHONE HO-7-4667

WAVELAND, MISS.

The Blessed Virgin Sodality and the Holy Name Society received communion Sunday, May 13th in honor of Mother's Day.

Breakfast was served and the regular monthly meeting of the Holy Name Society, was held immediately after Mass.

A committee was appointed for St. Clare's Church Fair which will be held in August. Mr. Lloyd Bourgeois and Mr. F. J. Bergeron of the Holy Name Society and Miss Mary Margaret Turcotte and Miss Cecile Turcotte of the Blessed Virgin Sodality accepted the appointments.

Guests of Mrs. T. J. Bourgeois Sr. on Mother's Day were her children, daughters-in-law and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bourgeois, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bourgeois, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bourgeois and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richard.

Mrs. Catherine Mayer and daughter Cheryl, Mrs. Dorothy Weidman and children Stanley and Debbie, Mr. Anthony Bourgeois Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bourgeois Sr. dined at Paradise Point Restaurant, in Mississippi City, on Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thorning and children were here for the weekend with Mrs. Thorning's Mom and Dad, Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Jenkins.

A crawfish boil was given Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shambley. Attending were Sidney and Buelah Bourgeois, Bessie and Jimmy DeBlanc, Jimmy's mother, Mrs. L. T. DeBlanc, Fred and Claire Bourgeois, Comedian Alec, Laura Hunter and daughter Dianne, Mildred and Charles Shambley Jr. and Gertrude and Charles Shambley Sr.

Thelma Henley is happy that she is receiving letters regularly from her Navy son Butch, and says he is adjusting wonderfully to Navy life.

Freddie Jr. and Linda Bourgeois went to Sallis, Miss. for the weekend.

Irma Ladner of Lakeshore, claims last Saturday was her unlucky day. Her daughter Gaynell's pedigree colly dog was killed which upset the entire family.

The tip end of Irma's finger was cut off in the car shock and she had to be taken to Hancock General Hospital. A friend picked up the tip of her finger and asked what to do with it after Irma had left. Now Irma is wondering if she should have placed it back on her finger to grow back again.

Der Mudders' Bowling League had their banquet on Monday night at Haverty's Restaurant and Lounge.

Trapani's Knock-Knock Club, sponsored by Frank Trapani, received a trophy for First-Place Winners.

Congratulations to Grace Ann Boudages who walked off with four trophies.

Mrs. Charleston Ladner is in Hancock General Hospital under observation.

Mr. Guy Drew will enter Hotel Dieu Hospital in New Orleans this week for some tests.

Mrs. Lena Ziegler Bourgeois, wife of the late Walter Bourgeois, expired on Tuesday, May 15th, and will be buried Thursday morning at 9:30 a.m. from the McMahon Funeral Home.

Linda Mazarakis and Jo Ann Kreiger, seniors of S. J. A., tied for first place in highest average.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bourgeois on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rupp and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weltring.

Stanislaus Member Of Newly Formed Athletic Conference

The Mississippi Catholic Conference, a newly formed athletic loop composed of seven members, was formed Saturday at Notre Dame High School, Biloxi.

The conference, expected to eventually include all Catholic high schools in the state, will be fully sanctioned by the Mississippi High School Activities Association, according to W. D. Allen, MHSAA director.

St. Stanislaus of Bay St. Louis, Notre Dame of Biloxi and St. Aloysius of Vicksburg will form the south division of the conference, while Sacred Heart of Hattiesburg, St. Joseph of Greenville and St. Joseph of Jackson will make up the north division.

St. Clara of Yazoo City, also admitted, will not compete until 1964 when it will become a full senior high school.

Brother Dacien, S. C., athletic director at St. Stanislaus, was elected the first conference president.

Winners of the north and south divisions in football will meet to decide the conference champion in a post-season game. The same schools will follow the same plan in basketball.

A central track and field meet of all member schools is planned for 1962 in Hattiesburg, one week before the district meets.

All-conference teams will be selected in football and basketball.

Sunday Is Loyalty Sunday At Main St. Methodist Church

Sunday, May 20 is Loyalty Sunday in the Main Street Methodist Church. The Visitors' Consecration service will be administered by the pastor at the 11:00 worship hour. HOME AGENT'S NOTES

Just a Reminder... Don't try to stake your home plants with 3-foot stakes. Use a stake at least 5 feet above the ground.

LAUNDERING RESULTS
One reason you aren't satisfied with the looks of your clothes when they come out of the washer may be related to the temperature of your water. You want to use water of at least 140 degrees for durable colorfast materials.

REASONING FOR POOR
Poor sorting of garments can also contribute to poor laundering results. So can incorrect use of detergents. The ideal solution is water and detergent in 1/4 ounce of detergent (by weight) to each gallon of water. This water-detergent recipe came from the 1961 American Home Laundry Manufacturers Association Conference.

Overloading your washing machine is a major factor in poor laundering results.

MAY PLENTIFUL FOODS
Milk, butter, ice cream and other dairy products are the headliners on the plentiful food list for May. Broiler-fryers, canned free-stone peaches, vegetable fats and oils, eggs and potatoes are other foods on the list.

DOES YOUR CAR HAVE SEAT BELTS?
One study showed that seat belts cut the number of serious injuries and deaths in automobile accidents by one-third.

The recommendation is to fasten your seat belt before you turn on the ignition of your car and keep it fastened whenever your car is in motion.

Many folks believe that if they drive mostly around their own home town and at moderate speeds, they won't need seat belts. Before you adopt the beliefs of this group, remember:

- * More than half of the accidents causing injury or death involve speeds of less than 40 miles an hour.
- * Three out of four traffic deaths occur within 25 miles of home.

You can understand a seat belt as an instant with one hand. It can increase your chances of remaining conscious as you are not cut clear of a submerged or burning car.

Your chances of being killed in an accident are five times greater if you are thrown from a car.

John and his partner caught 90 crabs one night.

You crabbers should catch some soft crabs on the next full moon. The crabs shed on the full moon. Of course, the tide has a lot to do as to the time you should go out.

We have gotten some good news on hard crabs. They are beginning to give. A few nets and a lot of patience should make a good meal, if you like boiled crabs—who doesn't?

Alphonse Lind says he has been catching some nice salt water fish lately. Alphonse does both fresh and salt water fishing as well as fly fishing. He usually gets his share.

The soft ball leagues are in full swing. Will be giving the scores of winning teams soon.

GOOD NEWS

A new concrete bridge across Bayou La Croix in Hancock County was officially opened as part of a federal-state project to hard surface and improve the Kiln-Bay St. Louis Road.

This is good news to the people living at Kiln, Miss., or beyond as well as the fishermen who use this road to get to their favorite fishing grounds who have been detouring for the past (?) months.

A few speckles have been caught out at the Keys the past week. Those who caught them said they were of good size. About time. Look out from now on!

Learned today that de/berries are about gone. Blackberries should make their appearance in the next couple of weeks. When picking them, watch out for snakes.

Wasn't funny when the Mayor deliberately hooked a neutra on his fly rod—results—a hard fight and a lost bug.

A law protecting wildlife states that hunting, killing or catching alligators is illegal in Mississippi, and requires person selling frogs and turtles for novelty purposes to have a resident hunting and fishing license, or a special permit.

The law, which went into effect on March 28, 1962, states that it is unlawful for any person to hunt, kill, or catch turtles and frogs for commercial use without the special permit. The permit is issued by the Game and Fish Commission for $200. Persons who have been convicted of violating game and fish regulations are ineligible for the permit.

Violators of this law are liable to a fine from $25 to $200.

Jack A. Warren, Jr., public relations director of the Game and Fish Commission, says he "will try to keep the public informed of any new developments in game and fish information in Mississippi."

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A fishery management project for Mississippi's three National Fish Hatcheries received favorable action today by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The Committee approved an amendment by Senator John Stennis to provide $15,000 to launch the management program for the hatcheries at Meridian, Tunica, and Lyman in Harrison County.

Stennis said the three hatcheries have a combined production of 14 million warm-water fish.

Technical guidance is required in the distribution of these fish. Stennis said "and cooperation with the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission could be strengthened."

New Orleansian Catfish first thinned to championship event, Rockaway, most valuable track award Saturday Stanislaus' honored in the cafeteria.

Jones, winning Class A-A 440-yard Friday at Clinton, was a special trophy for a record of 52-1/2 times of 50.7 and 30.4, more than his new large 10-county District.

Tulsa coach Tommy was guest speaker at while St. Stanislaus president H. G. "Red" Jones, as master of ceremonies.

Oswald Caceres, winning a scholarship to Junior college, was honored most valuable football player and also received a trophy.

Freshman no-hit artist Matherne of Bay St. Louis away the MVP baseball while Mike Gore was the basketball coach's most valuable offensive cager award.

Departing grid chief Ruiz, wrapping up five years at St. Stanislaus, presented coin and Larry Fee the coin and defensive linemen respectively, while James was given the sportsman trophy.

Waymon Carr was named as the Rocks' top rebounder basketball coach Brother S.C. presented the Bay St. Louis trophy.

St. Stanislaus president Brother Hugh, S.C., presented trackman Henry Klingman as the most improved athlete, and Paul Fasullo was named as the most spirited.

The record setting relay of Jones, Caceres and Paul Phil Fasullo received minor trophies.

Baseball mentor Anthony "dy" Pitalo honored another St. Louis diamond hero—Dusty Rhodes—as the Rocks' leading hitter.

St. Stanislaus cheerleaders were also honored while were presented in each of four sports.

Expansion Of Chemical Industry

Industry-conscious Mississippi has a definite interest in the fact that the nation's chemical industry is growing at a rate above that of the economy as a whole. Mindful of the big new refinery on the Mississippi, it is especially significant in petroleum is one of the great treasure houses of chemical materials. Every American industry depends on the chemical industry for materials vitally important to operations.

State Is Sixth In Nation With Income Increase

Mississippi ranked sixth in the nation and second in the rate in the rate of increase in annual income in 1961, according to records compiled. Only the South exceeded the Mississippi growth rate. Total income in Mississippi for 1961 was $2.7 billion dollars, against $2.6 billion dollars in 1960.

Stennis said the funds be used for salaries and expenses for trained fishery biologists, temporary assistants during the month, and for the purchase of necessary field and laboratory equipment.

The Stennis amendment affords technical assistance in fishery management and national wildlife refuge as well as at military and naval bases.

Miss Florence Wesceovich, hostess, and Ray M. Lusk, of the Harborers, at Salon 218, on Friday, June 14, at the home of Mrs. G. A. LeDuke, with Mrs. Lillian Sones, waitress, presiding.

During the business session it was announced that Mrs. H. H. Brown, of Biloxi, is a candidate for the Department of Chiropractic.

Plans for the Department of Chiropractic for the year 1934, to July 1, to be held at Salon 218, as hostesses, Mrs. A. A. LeDuke and Mrs. Lillian Sones, were discussed.

Mrs. A. A. LeDuke, of Biloxi, Department of Preventive Medicine, reported several members who plan to attend the dedication of the playground equipment at the Department, Sanatorium, on Sunday.

The gift of the equipment was a special project of the Mississippi Salons.

Miss Florence Wesceovich won the attendance prize, and Mrs. Henry Capdepon won the door prize. There were 18 members present.

Following the business session, a buffet lunch was served by Mesdames Romanoff, Gaymitt, Capdepon, Daniel Ziegler, Russell Elbert and Rene Bernhardt. At which time Mrs. Romanoff, who had a birthday, was surprised with a large birthday cake for the occasion.

Mrs. LeDuke will be hostess for the June meeting at her home, Biloxi.

Penicillin Of Anticancerous Value In Blast Control

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Blast control measures continue to be improved as a result of research by the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station.

Several years ago Dr. Ben Hartline pioneered in the field to find that penicillin would combat mixed with salt. It can be injected to cattle, without the problem of individual dosages. Tests showed that penicillin is effective for only about 17 days, but that length of time, cattle can be blast again, even though are still receiving the drug.

A more recent study at the Mississippi station indicates that the effectiveness of penicillin may be increased by mixing other antibiotics with it. Dr. H. W. Essig of the Animal Husbandry department used penicillin, erythromycin and streptomycin in a study involving 18 steers known to be bluebloaters. Steers were reversed between the treated and non-treated groups to test the treatment more thoroughly.

The combination of antibiotics for adequate control for 38 days, much protection would generally be long enough to cover the period of lush clover growth which causes an annual outbreak of bloat in Mississippi.

Results of this research were published in the May issue of the Journal of Farm Research, which is available on request from the Experiment Station at State College, Mississippi.

Throughout the combination of antibiotics used in this study may currently available to cattle, results of this research may be made available when they are readily available when they assured it will produce desired results.

HOW TO PROTECT LIVESTOCK FROM RADIOACTIVE FALLOUT

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Some advance planning will help to provide valuable livestock from radioactive fallout if a nuclear war occurs, advises Johnnie S. Sarason, associate economist of the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station.

Light barn would cut radiation by about one-half, advises milking cows the most protected place in the middle of the barn. Put other breeding cows in the next best shelter.

Put all other farm buildings in the less valuable animals in a shed without sides gives the best protection. If there are no such buildings to house all the cows, put the others in a yard, or farm buildings, or even in a tree-sheltered area.

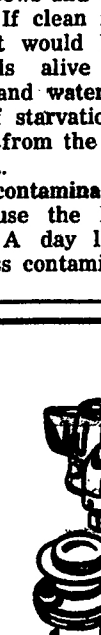

Keep livestock under cover during the first critical period of 48 hours—longer if possible.

Avoid feeding them contaminated feed.

Reduce the amount of water and concentrated feed. If practical, keep cows and calves together so calves can suckle and reduce the comfort of full udders.

If only a limited reserve of dry feed is available, use it for dry cows and other breeding animals. If clean feed is not available, it would be better to keep animals alive on contaminated feed and water than to let them starve of starvation. They might suffer from the effects of contamination.

If contaminated feed must be used, use the least contaminated first. A day later the feed will be less contaminated.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

The Hancock County soil conservation NEEDS committee will meet in the agricultural center building, Nacaise Ave., Bay St. Louis, Miss. at 9:30 a.m. May 24, 1962. This meeting is to direct efforts to make corrections in the Hancock County needs report, and to condense the conservation needs report.

It is the desire of the committee to have the Hancock County Conservation Needs Report ready for publication by September, 1962. All members of the committee are urged to attend the meeting. The needs of all agricultural species are members of this committee. They include: Soil Conservation; County Agent; Farm Home Administration; State Forest Service; Manager; and Chairman, Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Service; Chairman, Soil Conservation Service; Commissioners; Vocational Agricultural Teacher; and Hancock County Health Inspector.

Mr. Paul A. Calhoun, Agricultural Engineer, Soil Conservation Service, Hattiesburg, Miss. visited the Bay St. Louis SCS office May 9 and 10, 1962. Mr. Calhoun assisted Hugh Sanford, Work Unit Conservationist, and Mark Damm, Conservation Aid, with local farm engineering problems.

The Hancock County Soil Conservation District is an organized law designed to help farmers and ranchers with their problems of water and soil conservation.

The District, through a memorandum of understanding received technical help from the Soil Conservation Service. The technical help includes Soil and Water conservation planning on the land. An aerial photograph is furnished the owner of the land. Another map is furnished to record the soil survey information. With the soils information, this plan is more accurate. This would develop the problems, and the owner wishes of the owner, or

These plans can be written for farm owners as well as for crop and cattle operators. The SCS technicians will assist you as best he can with any of the various problems you may have. However, you must be willing to accept the assistance by becoming an SCS cooperator. With the Hancock County soil conservation district, it becomes a cooperator. There is an agreement that you will be willing to accept. This agreement includes in it that you are willing to make a conservation plan for your farm, and that among other things, you will carry out plan as your resources will permit, or make changes in the plan as necessary in carrying out the plan. There is no charge for this type assistance. Contact your local soil conservation office, or your County Agent, for more information.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cagle and daughter Holly Elizabeth left Monday for their home in San Antonio after a two weeks visit with his mother, Mrs. A. Cagle in New Orleans and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Matherne and family of this city.

Mrs. Ray Baker, of Hattiesburg, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Baker, the former Albert Smith, who have moved to Bay St. Louis from Stock, California.

VOTE FOR

AMENDMENT — DIVIDING THE OFFICE OF
SHERIFF AND TAX-COLLECTOR INTO TWO SEPARATE OFFICES

JUNE 5, 1962

WHY THE VOTERS SHOULD APPROVE THIS AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

The sheriff would no longer have to divide his interest and time between his law duties and collecting taxes. He would then be a "full time sheriff."

The sheriff, because he could succeed himself, would be encouraged to more adequately train himself by attending law enforcement schools, the F.B.I. Academy, etc., where he would learn about crime detecting, finger printing, etc. Also, he could set up and continue a more consistent law enforcement program.

A special legislative study committee will be appointed to study the situation and make recommendations to the Legislature about it in the event the people approve the amendment on June 5. This committee will secure copies of all the laws of the other states and will call on experienced law men throughout Mississippi for their ideas and suggestions and will come up with a plan best suited to Mississippi.

STENNIS ASKS FOR HALF MILLION FOR FLOOD CONTROL

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator John Stennis (D-Miss.) today asked the Public Works Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee to appropriate $500,000 for flood control in the Jackson-Floowood area of the Pearl River and another $100,000 for a flood control survey of the entire Pearl River Basin.

Stennis, a ranking member of the Appropriations Committee and of the Public Works Subcommittee, urged these funds be made available for Fiscal Year 1963, beginning July 1, 1962.

Stennis recalled the two serious floods, one in March 1961, and another in December, that caused an estimated damage of $4,750,000 in the Jackson-Floowood area along the Pearl River.

The administration budget calls for only $123,000 for the Jackson-Floowood project, but upon recommendation of the Corps of Engineers, Stennis asked for another $377,000 to commence construction of the flood control project.

The $100,000 for a comprehensive survey along the entire Pearl River Basin would consider measures for flood control, water supply, low flow augmentation and pollution abatement, irrigation and drainage improvements and related works.

In another action, Stennis urged appropriation of one million dollars for the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Navigation Project.

Of that amount $225,000 would be used for pre-construction planning and the other $775,000 would allow construction to begin.

He also asked that $500,000 be appropriated for flood control along the Tombigbee and its tributaries in Northeast Mississippi.

Hours: 9 to 5:30

Except Wednesday 9-12

Mrs. Hilare Ogden was installed president of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club last Thursday.

Others taking office were Mrs. Wallace Chevis, first vice president; Mrs. Ben Hille Sr., second vice president; Mrs. Herbert Baron, recording secretary; Miss Veronica Mohr, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Albert Kuehn, treasurer; and Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick, parliamentarian. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was the installing officer.

A chop suey luncheon was enjoyed by members prior to the business session, at which time past presidents were honored. Mrs. Eugene Mogobgab was chairman of the luncheon.

Mrs. Reuben Gray, outgoing president, thanked the members for their cooperation during her term of office. She was presented a silver bowl in appreciation for her two years in office.

Mrs. Ogden appointed committee chairmen for the coming year, and she announced a cold plate luncheon will be held in June.

It was also announced that the club was awarded a blue ribbon from the State for the Pilgrimage record sent in by Miss Mohr.

Mrs. Harold Keefe was hostess with Mesdames Herbert Wise, P. J. Treutle, T. P. Clapp, Harry Wardell, Charles Lozano, Phillip Hayes, C. M. Shipp and J. A. Tognotti as co-hostesses.
